$20M of New Campus Building Construction Gets Underway

Contracts Awarded for HHD/Technology Center and Administration Building

Launching the final phase of the campus' earthquake recovery, Cal State Northridge has awarded contracts for $20 million of new building construction: a $9.7 million HHD/Technology Center complex and a $10 million Administration Building.

"This school year and the beginning of the next school year will see the most intense period of construction activities on our campus since the Northridge earthquake," said Jim Sullivan, CSUN's interim vice president for administration and finance.

The two planned new buildings, headed for completion in fall 2000 by contractor S.J. Amoroso, are among seven major projects that will be underway on campus this fall. The latest tally puts the estimated final cost of CSUN's earthquake recovery at about $405 million.

The two-story, 83,500-square foot Health and Human Development/ Technology Center building will arise east of the Oviatt Library, providing a new home for that college. The three-story, 84,000-square foot Administration Building is well underway at the northwest corner of Prairie Street and Etiwanda Avenue.

The following is a status summary of the seven major projects this fall:

1. Oviatt Library: Reconstruction of the Oviatt Library's east and west wings continues. In addition to the wings project, the new library exit/pathway (Grand Stairs) project will start construction this month. This project will add stairs to the south side of the library building, connecting the terrace level with the Oviatt Lawn. Both projects should be completed in January 2000. Until then, the Oviatt Lawn and the wings' construction sites will remain fenced off. The library will continue to be accessed from the terrace level. Because of the close proximity of the library to the HHD/Technology Center project, the pedestrian pathway east of the Oviatt will remain closed until the Oviatt construction is completed.

2. Health and Human Development/ Technology Center: Construction of this project began this month and is scheduled to be completed in fall 2000. The construction site, which adjoins the Oviatt site on the east, will be fenced off. North/south pedestrian traffic flow is to the east along Lindley Avenue.

3. Student Services Building: Renovation of the Student Services Building will be completed this month. The building is partially occupied and will be fully occupied next month. The building entrances on the east, south and west sides are fully accessible. The north entrance will not be accessible until January 2000 when work on the Oviatt projects is completed. North/south pedestrian traffic flow is to the west along Etiwanda Avenue.

4. Administration Building: Construction of this project started last month and is scheduled to be completed in September 2000. The construction site, west of Etiwanda Avenue, is bounded by Vincennes Street on the north and Prairie Street on the south. North/south pedestrian traffic flow is along Etiwanda Avenue.

5. Main Distribution Frame: Construction of this project is scheduled to be completed in November 1999. North/south pedestrian traffic flow is to the east.

6. Art and Design Center Expansion: Construction of this project will start this month and is scheduled to be completed in July 2000. The construction site "wraps around" the existing Art and Design Center on the north, east and south sides. Access to the Art and Design Center during construction will be on the west side of the center with entrances off both Plummer Street from the south and Halsted from the north. Existing parking to the east of the center will be fenced off and will be replaced with new parking east of the site.

7. Arts, Media, and Communication Building: Construction of this project will begin in October/November 1999 and is scheduled to be completed in December 2000. The site is fenced off and will remain so during construction.

University Announces Outstanding Alumni Teacher

Veteran Castaic Middle School Teacher Alison Hunsaker Will Represent CSUN in Systemwide Celebration

Alison Hunsaker, a teacher at Castaic Middle School in northern Los Angeles County who says she could not imagine having another profession, has been chosen as Cal State Northridge's Outstanding Alumni Teacher as part of a yearlong celebration.

Hunsaker, who teaches eighth grade language arts (English) and has 14 years classroom experience, was selected by CSUN from among dozens of applicants. The campus selection committee cited her breadth of experience, use of technology in the classroom and judged her "on the cutting edge of teaching."

"This is probably the nicest thing that's ever happened to me professionally," said Hunsaker, who was nominated by her school principal. "I was really very surprised to find out I was chosen. When you think of all the teachers who have been trained at CSUN, there are some exceptionally talented people."

Hunsaker will be among 22 teachers-one from each Cal State campus-honored Monday, September 13 by the Cal State system's Board of Trustees at an awards dinner in Long Beach. The event launches a yearlong CSU celebration, CSU Celebrating Teachers, highlighting the system's role in teacher preparation.

An estimated 60 percent of the K-12 teachers in California are alumni of the Cal State system. And half of the California Teacher of the Year Award recipients have come from Cal State campuses, including five alumni from Cal State Northridge since 1972.

Hunsaker enrolled at CSUN as an undergraduate in 1980, earned a bachelor's degree in English in 1985, and then went on to earn two credentials and ultimately a master's degree in counseling in 1996. That culminated 16 years of almost continuous enrollment, most of it while working as a teacher.

While CSUN statistically has one of the largest teacher training programs in California, Hunsaker said the university also has one of the best. "The caliber of teaching credential candidates from Northridge is very high. I think people trained as teachers at Cal State Northridge are very well prepared."

Hunsaker's first teaching job was at Pacoima Middle School from 1985 to 1992, where she also served as the school's at-risk student and dropout prevention coordinator. She moved to Castaic Middle School in 1992, serving there as a mentor teacher and a supervising teacher for CSUN.

Illustrating the CSU's impact on teaching, Hunsaker said many of the teachers now at Castaic-a grades four-to-eight school with about 1,250 students-attended CSUN or other Cal State campuses. "I know our district likes to hire people from the Cal State system," she said.

For her part, after 14 years in the profession, Hunsaker said she "can't think of doing anything else." "There are great things happening in the public schools. I think the coursework now is more rigorous than when I went to school. But we need to do a better job of getting that message out."
Alumni Night at the Hollywood Bowl

CSUN's Alumni Association has some tickets remaining for "CSUN Alumni Night at the Hollywood Bowl," featuring fireworks, the Hollywood Bowl Orchestra and other special activities on Saturday, September 18.

Two types of tickets are available: $10 for the fireworks and 8 p.m. show billed as the bowl's last concert of the century, or $25 for the show plus an alumni reception beginning at 6:30 p.m. with wine, lemonade, iced tea and coffee in the Camrose Garden Picnic Area (picnic area #15). Guests can bring their own picnic.

Tony Award-winner Alan Cumming, straight from his show-stopping run in "Cabaret," and other surprise guests will be featured during the evening. Remaining tickets are being offered on a space-available basis.

For transportation and parking information, call (323) 850-2000. San Fernando Valley residents may wish to travel using MTA bus 420. For additional event information, contact the Alumni Relations Office at x2137.

Notices

Jewish Religious Holidays

The Provost's Office reminds the campus community that the following Jewish religious holiday is upcoming: Yom Kippur, sunset Sun., Sept. 19, and all day Mon., Sept 20, until sunset. Also, many traditional, orthodox and conservative Jewish students observe the following religious festivals: Sukkot, Shemini Atzeret and Simchat Torah, Sat.-Sun., Sept. 25-26, and Sat.-Sun., Oct. 2-3.

Faculty and staff are reminded of the responsibility to be sensitive to students' religious obligations as course deadlines and activities are scheduled. Also, under campus policy, students who are eligible to take a test or exam are permitted to do so, without penalty, at a time when that activity does not violate their religious creed.

New Reprographics Prices

Purchasing and Logistical Services announces a new price schedule that took effect Sept. 1. The new prices for multiple copies of the same document are as follows: 1-25 copies cost 4 cents per impression, 26-50 cost 3.5 cents per impression, and more than 50 cost 3 cents per impression. fmi-x2898 or x2309.

Discount Books

Year 2000 Entertainment 50% Discount Books are available at the Center of Achievement for the Physically Disabled throughout the fall semester in the Kinesiology Building, room 156. fmi-Sam Britten, x2182, or Nick Breit, x3462.

Peer Coaching Program

Faculty members are invited to participate in CSUN's Peer Coaching Program this fall. Each participant will pair with a colleague from a different discipline to observe each other's teaching and provide constructive, reflective feedback. The feedback-collegial, supportive and confidential-will be based on the teaching strategies participants have asked their partners to observe. Time commitment will range from six to eight hours, including an orientation session, peer coaching practicum, time working with a partner and an end-of-semester discussion meeting. Participants may want to select a coaching partner outside their discipline and ask him or her to join them at orientation. The orientation sessions are scheduled from noon-1:30 p.m. Tue., Sept. 14, and from 12:30-2 p.m. Wed., Sept. 15. Both sessions will be held in the Center for Excellence in Learning and Teaching, in the Teaching and Learning Center, Sierra Hall, 4th floor. fmi-Cynthia Desrochers, x5934, or e-mail cynthia.desrochers@csun.edu.

Cross Cultural Panels

Student Panels for an International Curriculum and Education is a program offering free cross cultural panels to CSUN and community organizations. This program comprises international students who visit classrooms and local service institutions to present their native perspectives on subjects selected by professors or the persons in charge. This is an opportunity to raise international awareness among students to lead them to think more globally. SPICE panelists often eliminate myths and misconceptions people might have about their countries. fmi-Roopa Rawjee, Student Development and International Programs, x3053.

Fulbright Scholar Awards
The competition for 2000/2001 Fulbright Scholar Awards for U.S. faculty and professionals opened March 1, 1999. Opportunities for lecturing or advanced research in more than 125 countries are available to college and university faculty as well as to professionals outside academe, including artists, journalists and lawyers. Awards range from two to 10 months, and many are flexible according to the needs of grantees. In addition, a number of open awards allow applicants to suggest their own grant activities and host institutions. Various deadlines are in effect for special programs, including international education administrators programs and the Fulbright German studies seminar (November 1), and NATO advanced research fellowships and institutional grants (January 1, 2000). For application call (202) 686-7877, or e-mail apprequest@cies.iie.org, fmi-Tom Spencer-Walters, x2138, or www.cies.org.

NCOD Information

CSUN's National Center on Deafness provides the following Q and A for university faculty and staff members to better serve the campus' deaf and hard of hearing students.

Q: What if the professor does not want the interpreter to interpret something?

A: If the professor is speaking to all students in the class who can hear him or her, then the deaf or hard-of-hearing students must have the same access. The interpreter is there to provide access to all communication that occurs in the classroom-for the professors, the deaf and hard-of-hearing students and other students as well. Not including the deaf and hard-of-hearing students in the class results in segregating them from the other students and from the professor. If the interpreter does not hear a word or phrase, he or she will ask the professor to repeat it. Often, responses such as: "Oh, it wasn't important" or "Never mind" cause exclusion of the deaf or hard-of-hearing students. Interpreters are bound by a Code of Ethics. One of the tenets states that they "shall render the message faithfully, always conveying the content and spirit of the speaker." Therefore, anything that transpires while the interpreter is working will be interpreted.

Our Deepest Sympathy

The campus extends its deepest sympathy to:

- The family of Hettie Sawatzke (Chemistry) who died of cancer.
- Leticia Fernandez (Physical Plant Management) and her family on the death of her father.

Events

Psychology Department Orientations

The Department of Psychology's Advisement Center is sponsoring student orientations in September from 1-3 p.m. Wednesdays in Sierra Hall, room 307. The next session is Freshman Orientation on Sept. 15. Topics include using the GE package to your advantage; minor; dual major; major; study habits; graduate school workshop options; and campus resources such as financial aid, the Computer Center, library, fitness center, library tours, and the Advisement Center. fmi-Carrie Saetermoe, x3506.

Chemistry Seminars

The Chemistry Club and the Department of Chemistry are sponsoring a series of seminars 4 p.m. Wednesdays in the Science complex, room 2228. The schedule is as follows:

- Sept. 15: "Natural Selection: The Future of Biocatalysis." Professor Frances Arnold of Caltech will speak.
- Sept. 22: "Escherichia Coli as a Chemical Factory." Professor James Liao of UCLA will speak. fmi-x3381.
Y2K Preparation Seminar

Matadors Federal Credit Union is hosting a free seminar on year 2000 preparedness from 5-6:30 p.m. Wed., Sept 15, in its office at 9401 Reseda Blvd. Credit union members and the public are invited to learn about the plans and procedures that various agencies and companies are putting in place to assure that their services will not be interrupted on Jan. 1, 2000. RSVP to (818) 993-6328, x206.

Volunteers Needed

The Career Center is seeking volunteers for the following events:

- Day of Caring, sponsored by United Way. Help beautify the community from 8 a.m.-noon Sat., Sept. 18. fmi-x3260.
- California Coastal Clean-Up Day, sponsored by Heal the Bay. Sat., Sept. 18. fmi-(800) COAST-4U.
- Taste of Encino Food & Wine Festival. Sat.-Sun., Sept. 25-26, at the Naval Reserve Center in Encino. fmi-(818) 894-9301, x344.
- Walktoberfest, America's Walk for Diabetes. Check-in is at 8 a.m. Sun., Sept. 26, at Lake Balboa in Encino. fmi-x3260.

Geology Lecture

Brown Bag Film Series

The Marilyn Magaram Center will host its Brown Bag Film Series on Wed., Sept. 22, and Thu., Sept. 23, in Science Court 5, room 524. The films are titled "Vitamin Basics" and "Low Fat Cooking". Wednesday's showing will be from noon to 1 p.m., and Thursday's from 12:30-1:30 p.m. fmi-x3102.

Welcome Reception

Interim Provost Philip Handler will host a welcome reception for new or newly assigned administrators in the Academic Affairs Division. The reception will be from 4:30-6:30 p.m. Thu., Sept. 23, in the main dining room at the University Club. Those honored will be:

- Philip Rusche, Dean, College of Education
- William Toutant, Interim Dean, College of Arts, Media & Communication
- Alden Reimonenq, Executive Assistant to the Provost & Vice President for Academic Affairs
- Virginia Lussier, Associate Dean, College of Social & Behavioral Sciences
- Paul Krivonos, Interim Assoc. Dean, College of Arts, Media & Communication
- Robert Brocklehurst Jr., Assoc. Dean, College of Extended Learning

Administrators Reception

Interim President Louanne Kennedy will host a welcome reception for new and newly assigned campus administrators. The reception will be from 4:30-6:30 p.m. Fri., Sept. 24, at the University Club. RSVP to Doretta Crawford at x2132. Those honored will be:

- Philip Handler, Interim Provost & Vice President of Academic Affairs
- Fred Strache, Interim Vice President of Student Affairs
University Relations Reception

Vice President Bill Outhouse and the UR staff invite the campus community to a reception welcoming Murray Wood, Associate Vice President for University Development, and Suzanne Hackett, Director of Campaigns, from 4:30-6:30 p.m. Mon., Sept. 27, at the University Club. RSVP to Veronica Grant, x4400, or Patricia Capaldi, x2150, by September 23.

Celebrate the Move

< Ventura campus alumni are invited to "Celebrate the Move," an open house of the new CSU Northridge at Channel Islands facility, from 1:30-4:30 p.m. Sun., 9/26. The afternoon celebration will include a ribbon cutting officially opening the campus, tours, entertainment and prizes. More than $8.5 million has been spent renovating the beautiful Spanish mission style architecture of the former Camarillo State Hospital. There will be an alumni table with information about the new alumni chapter for Ventura County graduates.

Classes

Ceramics Lab

The University Student Union ceramics lab is offering fall classes. Afternoon and evening hours are offered in wheel throwing. These small, non-credit, eight-week sessions offer individual instruction plus additional time to work outside of class. Registration began 9/1. Classes begin 10/4. Register early, space is limited. fmi-x2798.

Defensive Driving Classes

Defensive driving classes will be offered Wed., Sept. 15, in the University Student Union, Pasadena Room, and Thu., Oct. 7, in the USU Balboa Room. Class times for both days will be from 8:30 a.m.-noon and again from 1-4:30 p.m. Faculty, staff and student employees who drive a state vehicle (including carts) in the course of their work must complete this class. Note: this class no longer needs to be repeated every four years. Space is limited. Call Environmental Health and Safety Office for reservations. fmi-Christina Lewis, x2401.

Forums/Workshops for Web Teaching

The Learning Resource Center's Web Project offers "show and tell" style forums and Internet tools workshops to support the development of web teaching. The programs are designed to meet a wide range of needs and interests, from Internet beginners to advanced users. Forums feature faculty from various disciplines who discuss their experiences of teaching and learning with Internet resources. Each forum is followed by tools workshops to help you learn the simple computer skills required for web teaching. Tools workshops may also be scheduled on request for your group. Forums and workshops are open to all members of the CSUN community. fmi-e-mail hflrc007@csun.edu or nancy.fernandez@csun.edu, or visit the Forums and Workshops web site at http://lrc.csun.edu/~john/webworkshopsf99.html, or call x2033.

During the fall semester, the Web Project will offer the following programs:

- PACE Forum (Program for Adult College Education). From 2-4 p.m. Tue., Oct. 12, in Education Building, room 2121B.
- Class Discussion Using HyperNews Workshop. In two parts from 2-4 p.m. Wednesdays, Sept. 29, and Oct. 6, in Student Services Building, room 416. Space is limited and reservations are required.
- Teaching with E-mail Workshop. From 2-4 p.m. Thu., Oct. 21, in Student Services Building, room 416.
- Online Testing Workshop. From 2-4 p.m. Thu., Nov. 11, in Student Services Building, room 416.
- Additional tools workshops-Computer Tips for Web Teaching, HTML: The Language of the Web, and Real Time Class Discussion: Internet Relay Chat-may be scheduled on request.

Deadlines

Student Research Symposium Distinguished Alumni Awards

The CSUN Alumni Association announces that nominations for the year 2000 Distinguished Alumni Awards are being accepted through Homecoming Day, on Sat., Oct. 16. The Distinguished Alumni Awards will be presented April 15, 2000, at the Sheraton Universal Hotel. The past presidents of the association serve as the honorary hosts.

The Alumni Association's Distinguished Alumni Awards recognize alumni who have achieved a high level of success in their chosen fields of endeavor, thus bringing distinction to themselves and their alma mater. Any alum, faculty, staff or emeriti faculty or staff may nominate individuals and forward the nominations to the association.

General Criteria for the Award

- An individual must have attended CSUN for at least one year or the equivalent of 24 units.
- Candidates must have reached and remained at the pinnacle of their field for a period of time sufficient to demonstrate perseverance and maturation.
- Candidates must have exhibited a high degree of character and integrity.
- All candidates will be considered regardless of race, gender, or religion.
- Interest, involvement and loyalty to the University may be considered, but shall not be a primary factor in the selection process.
- An individual must be able to attend the awards ceremony to be honored.

All nominations are active for three years. The 1999 recipients were: international opera star Carol Vaness, Ethernet computing pioneer Dirk Gates, Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist Frank del Olmo, and Los Angeles charter school innovator Yvonne Chan.

Nomination packets are available at the CSUN Office of Alumni Relations, 9528 Etiwanda Ave., north of Plummer Street. fmi-x2137.

Graduate Thesis Support

Graduate Thesis Support applications are due Fri., Oct. 15. Eligibility is restricted to classified graduate students working on their projects. A thesis planning form must be on file and a minimum GPA of 3.0 is required. Individuals who have previously received support from this program are ineligible. fmi-Office of Graduate Studies, x2138.

Visiting Speakers Program

Applications for the Distinguished Visiting Speakers Program are due Fri., Oct. 1. This program is designed to bring well-known speakers to CSUN. Applications may be submitted for classroom visits or department seminars by a guest lecturer (up to $400) or to bring to campus individuals or small groups of scholars with broad appeal to the campus community (up to $1,500). fmi-Office of Graduate Studies, x2138.
