INSIDE THIS ISSUE

- Brown Center, 'Where Miracles Will Occur,' is Completed
- University Tests Emergency Preparedness Plan
- For Your Information
- Calendar
CSUN's new Brown Center has four therapy pools, including a spa with special water jets to help people with joint and soft tissue injuries. Inset photo shows the front of the Brown Center.

Brown Center, 'Where Miracles Will Occur,' is Completed

Four-Pool Therapy Complex, Unrivaled in the United States, Offers New Hope to the Chronically Disabled

Cal State Northridge is celebrating the opening of a new $6 million aquatic therapy center for the chronically disabled that is unrivaled in the United States. The four-pool complex will offer new hope to those with serious disabilities while also training CSUN students in groundbreaking treatment techniques.

"This is truly a place where miracles will occur," said CSUN President Jolene Koester, who will preside at the dedication of the new Abbott and Linda Brown Western Center for Adaptive Aquatic Therapy. The dedication - featuring speaker Joni Eareckson Tada, an internationally known disability advocate - will be held at 10:30 a.m. Friday, March 28.

The aquatic center's opening fulfills a decades-long dream of CSUN kinesiology professor Sam Britten, who founded and built the university's nationally recognized therapeutic exercise programs that have helped thousands of people through the decades. The new aquatic component will enhance the university's existing land-based exercise programs.

"This is where my joy lies," said Britten, one of the university's early faculty members who is set to retire this spring after 44 years. "I can't imagine having a better job or having an opportunity to spend my life in any better way than enabling people with chronic disabilities to have the joy that comes from freedom and from freedom of movement."
The university's acclaimed Center of Achievement for the Physically Disabled, which Britten founded and directs, already serves about 400 community member and student clients each year through low-cost therapeutic exercise programs. With the addition of the aquatic program, the center ultimately expects to double or triple its client base.

The advantage of water-based exercise is it gives even those with serious and chronic disabilities the freedom of movement in exercise and therapy with little or no pain, compared to working on the ground. That is because the buoyancy of water provides an ideal environment for the body to function with less weight and gravity.

"We are really dealing with aftercare—after medical treatment and after rehabilitation—for people with chronic disabilities like arthritis, multiple sclerosis and stroke," Britten said. "There are about 180,000 people with chronic disabilities in this region, and almost no one's doing anything for them after they leave the hospital and/or therapy. But we are."

Britten's dream facility was made possible through $2 million in lead funding from Abbott and Linda Brown and their Ridgestone Foundation. The Browns' original $1.5 million contribution in February 2000 was CSUN's largest single alumni gift. Linda Brown, a CSUN graduate, took a special interest in Britten's pioneering work. The federal government also contributed nearly $1 million through the efforts of U.S. Rep. Howard "Buck" McKeon.

The Browns are expected to attend the March 28 dedication, which will be held on the patio in front of the newly completed Brown Center. Speaker Joni Eareckson Tada survived a diving accident that left her quadriplegic, and later went through an exercise program with Britten in the late 1970s that enabled her to begin driving a specially modified van.

Through the decades, Britten figures the center's therapeutic exercise programs have enabled perhaps 200 people to regain precious freedom and mobility by gaining the ability to drive modified vans. Work at Britten's center even enabled a woman with severe cerebral palsy to first regain the ability to drive and then to walk (with help) down the aisle for her wedding.

"Who knows the human potential?" said Britten. "We are only limited by our own expectations. It's really up to you and up to me how far we are going to drive ourselves. If we stop striving, we stop developing. Even for the severely disabled, they have so much that remains that can be developed. But they're generally not given the opportunity to do so."

Britten hopes the therapeutic exercise programs at CSUN will spur a broader interest in training practitioners who can help the seriously disabled regain the maximum amount of freedom, movement and normalcy in their lives once their acute medical care has been completed. That latter care, outside of CSUN, generally is not available, Britten said.

"I'm seeing a profession develop that says 'No, the quality of life doesn't need to end with age or disease or accident,' " Britten added. "With our aging population, this is a tremendous area of opportunity to reach out. That's why the university can play such a vital role in this, because our programs are not part of the traditional medical establishment."

Based on six months of research and travel across the country to visit other facilities that Britten did in planning for CSUN's aquatic center, the professor said he knows of no comparable facility anywhere in the United States or maybe even the world. "I know of nothing like this. This is just an unbelievable place. I get excited just talking about it."

The new 18,400-square-foot Brown Center consists of:

- a main 60 x 24-foot heated therapy pool with two underwater treadmills;
- a 30 x 24-foot heated pool with a vertically adjustable floor, allowing the university for the first time to expand its services to children;
- a 17 x 10-foot spa aimed at helping those with joint and soft tissue injuries; and
- a 26 x 24-foot cool water pool suited to those with multiple sclerosis and similar conditions that respond better in cooler environments.

With the start of the spring 2003 semester, the Brown Center already is hosting four pilot aquatic exercise classes a week with about 65 clients, both CSUN students and community members. Britten said that could increase to eight and then 16 aquatic classes within a year. Meanwhile, two classes of CSUN students now are in training to work at the aquatic center.

"This has been my dream for many, many years," Britten said. "There is such an excitement about the new aquatic center, I can't even tell you."
University Tests Emergency Preparedness Plan

About 50 of Cal State Northridge's top administrators underwent two days of specialized training last month to brush up on campus emergency preparedness procedures, including operating the campus' new Emergency Operations Center (EOC) in the Physical Plant Management complex.

The training included a desktop exercise of responding to a scenario not unfamiliar to the campus: a major earthquake centered in the San Fernando Valley. The training was part of the university's current efforts to update and revise its Campus Emergency Management Plan, said Public Safety Director Anne Glavin.

"Basically what we were doing was testing our system to see how it all came together," said Glavin. "We walked away from this exercise feeling good knowing that we know how to operate our EOC under a formal emergency management structure. The California Standarized Emergency Management System was utilized in this exercise and we managed it fairly well.

With the looming war in Iraq, the ongoing threat of terrorism and the ever-present prospect of natural disasters, the federal government last week unveiled a new "Be Ready" preparedness campaign (www.ready.gov). The Los Angeles City Fire Department also has earthquake and other emergency preparedness tips at www.lafd.org/eqtips.htm.

CSUN's Public Safety Department offered these key recommendations: 1) have a communications plan with cell phones or other methods so family members can reach each other during an emergency; 2) maintain a home emergency kit including a three-day supply of food, water, medicine and other essentials; and 3) report suspicious events or people to Public Safety at (818) 677-2111.

Learning first aid and CPR from the Red Cross or a community organization was another suggestion. In addition to the home emergency kits, officials also advised people to consider maintaining auto and office emergency kits that are small and portable so they can be stored in a daypack and carried if necessary.

Suggested Emergency Kit
- Bottled Water
- Non-Perishable & Dried Food
- Can Opener
- Small Radio and Extra Batteries
- Flashlight and Extra Batteries
- First Aid and Medicines Kit
- Fire Extinguisher
- Blanket and Sleeping Bag
- Large/Small Sealable Plastic Bags
• Pre-Moistened Towelettes
• Small Tool Kit
• Chemical Light Sticks
• Matches and Lighter
• Jacket, Clothes and Gloves
• Walking Shoes and Socks
• Cash (small denominations and coins)
• Compass
• Toiletries / Personal Hygiene Items
• Entertainment Pack: Family Photos, Notebooks, etc.
FYI

For Your Information publishes announcements of public meetings, notices, classes and courses of interest to the university community. The deadline for submitting items generally is noon on Monday, one week before the issue appears.

The deadline for the March 10 issue is Monday, March 3. We strive to include all items submitted by deadline occurring during the two-week period until the next issue. Items further in advance will be run on a space-available basis. Submit future items by e-mailing them to pubinfo@csun.edu, sending them to mail drop 8242 or faxing them to (818) 677-4909. E-mail is the preferred method of submitting.

Note: fmi - means for more information.

Events

Tuesday, Feb. 25 to Thursday, Feb. 27

Eating Disorders Awareness Week

Joint Advocates on Disordered Eating (JADE) and University Counseling Services invite the campus community to attend the free events of CSUN's eighth annual "Free Mind, Body and Spirit Fair" and a variety of programs throughout the week. fmi7500 or http://www.csun.edu/counseling/jade.html. The following are the week's events:

Tuesday, Feb. 25

- Nutrition 101: Separating Fact from Fiction: 9:30-10:45 a.m., USU Grand Salon.
- What's in the Fridge: 11 a.m.-12:15 p.m., Marilyn Magaram Center, Sequoia Hall, room 112.
- Eating Disorders as a Reaction to Stress: 12:30-1:45 p.m., USU Flintridge Room (above the Fitness Center).
- Film: "Eating Disorders": 12 p.m., Marilyn Magaram Center.
- Eating Disorders: Beyond Dieting: 7:30 p.m., Satellite Student Union, Pieza de Rocha Room.

Wednesday, Feb. 26

Body Talk: Freeing Yourself from Food and Weight Obsessions: 10 a.m. and 11 a.m., USU Grand Salon.
- Assertiveness and Body Image Pressures: noon-12:50 p.m., USU Flintridge Room.
- Film: "Dying to be Thin": 11:50 p.m., Marilyn Magaram Center.
Thursday, Feb. 27

- It Takes a Village$: 11 a.m. 12:15 p.m. & 12:301:45 p.m., USU Lakeview Terrace Room.

Wednesday, Feb. 26

Writers Workshop

Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society hosts a presentation by Dennis Palumbo, author of "Writing from the Inside Out," from 24 p.m. in the University Club. fmiBrennis Lucero-Wagoner, x2827.

Wednesday, Feb. 26

Morality Debate

The Center for Ethics and Values is sponsoring a special discussion of moral relativity and the role it plays in today's society. 46 p.m. in the Oviatt Library presentation room. Patrick Nichelson (Religious Studies), Christina von Mayrhauser (Anthropology) and Douglas Portmore (Philosophy) will conduct the panel discussion.

Wednesday, Feb. 26

Majors Fair

Advising Resource Center/EOP is holding a one-day majors fair giving students an opportunity to explore majors, minors and campus resources available to assist them in their academic careers. The event is sponsored by EOP, Undergraduate Studies, Associated Students and the California Career Development Association CSUN Chapter in collaboration with the eight academic colleges, the Career Center and Student Affairs. 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the USU Northridge Center. fmiHelene Berg-Kolin, x2108 or e-mail helene.berg-kolin@csun.edu.

Wednesday, Feb. 26

Sigma Xi Lecture

Sharon Glotzer, associate professor of Chemical Engineering and Material Science at the University of Michigan and Sigma Xi Distinguished Lecturer, will present a public lecture on "The Complex Nature of Molecular Motion in Liquids and Glasses: Finding Order in Disorder." 3 p.m. in Science building 2, second floor, room 2225. This lecture is sponsored by the CSUN Chapter of Sigma Xi, the Scientific Research Society. fmix2473 or e-mail henry.abrash@csun.edu.

Thursday, Feb. 27

Anthropology Lecture

The Anthropology Department is hosting a public lecture titled "The Stone-Built Strongholds of North Cameroon: Watch or Water Towers?" 5 p.m. in Sierra Hall, room 234. Guest speaker will be professor Nicholas David from the University of Calgary. fmix3331.

Monday, March 3

China Institute Lecture

The China Institute and the Office of Graduate Studies, Research and International Programs are hosting a lecture titled "Chinese Traditional Medicine and Philosophy" from 10 a.m. to noon in the Education Building, room 1214/1216. Andy and Shelly Tsing, researchers and practitioners of Chinese medicine, will present. fmi x2138 or zsus@csun.edu.

Wednesday, March 5

Philosophy Lecture

The Philosophy Department is hosting a public lecture titled "Conditional Intention and Mens Rea" at 4 p.m. in Sierra Hall, room 182. Guest speaker will be Gideon Yaffe, assistant philosophy professor at USC. fmi x2757 or www.csun.edu/~philos33.

Tuesday, March 11

Retired Faculty Meeting

The Association of Retired Faculty invites the campus community to its fourth meeting of the school year at 2 p.m. in the University Club's Lamb's Lounge. Ronald Davis of the History Department will speak on "What is Happening in the Natchez Project: the Relationship of Natchez-Under-the-Hill to Greater Natchez and to New Orleans." fmi Helen Lodge, x7848.

Wednesday, March 12

Family Business Awards

The San Fernando Valley Business Journal, in partnership with the CSUN Family Business Center, presents its inaugural Family Owned Business Awards. 5:30:30 p.m. at the Warner Center Marriott Hotel in Woodland Hills. Awards are given in five categories to individuals with significant achievements as family business owners. Individual tickets are $45; reserved tables for ten seats are $450. Sponsorship opportunities, nomination forms and ticket purchases are available by calling (818) 676-1750 or by e-mail at events@sfvbj.com. fmi

Upcoming Events

Saturday, March 15

Arts Council Luncheon/Fashion Show

The CSUN Arts Council will hold its annual luncheon and fashion show featuring the latest looks for spring presented by Petite Sophisticates and Casual Corner. The cost of event is a $35 donation that goes toward scholarship funds for CSUN students in visual arts, music and theater. The event will be held at the Odyssey restaurant at 15000 Odyssey Drive in Granada Hills. Doors open at 11 a.m. fmi Betty Butzer, (818) 892-6336.

Public Meetings

Personnel Planning and Review Committee

Meets 1:15 p.m. Wed., Feb. 26 University Hall 277

Faculty Senate Executive Committee

Meets 15 p.m. Thu., Feb. 27 University Hall 277

http://www.csun.edu/~hfoao102@csun.edu/csun02-03/csun0224_03/fyi.html[6/8/2012 10:46:52 AM]
Educational Policies Committee

Meets 24 p.m. Wed., March 5 University Hall 211

University Planning and Budget Group

Meets 1:303:30 p.m. Mon., March 10 University Hall 277

Christian Faculty & Staff Association

Meets noon every 2nd and 4th Thursday USU Thousand Oaks Room

A.S. Senate

Meets 2 p.m. every Tuesday USU Grand Salon

Notices

Technology and Persons with Disabilities Conference

CSUN¹s Center on Disabilities will hold its 18th annual international Conference on Technology and Persons with Disabilities on March 17-22 at the Hilton and Marriott hotels at the Los Angeles International Airport. Last year the conference drew nearly 4,200 participants from across the U.S. and from 40 foreign countries. This year¹s event will host more than 150 exhibitors of assistive technology and service delivery programs. More than 270 general sessions covering a wide variety of subjects will be presented Wednesday through Saturday, March 19-22. For more information, go to the web site at www.csun.edu/cod/conf/.

Pre-conference workshops will be offered Mon-Tue., March 17-18. The fee for these workshops is $279. Registration for all four days of the March 19-22 general session is $429. Participants may also register at single day rates.

There are four ways to register:
Phone (818) 677-2578
Fax (818) 677-4929
E-mail ctrdis@csun.edu
Mail Attn: Conference Registration
CSUN Center on Disabilities
18111 Nordhoff Street
UPA Building 11, Suite 103
Northridge, CA 91330-8340

Department Chair Appointment

Provost Louanne Kennedy has announced the appointment of Nancy Burstein as chair of the Special Education Department for a three-and-a-half year term effective February 6, 2003. The appointment was based on the recommendation of Philip Rusche, dean of the Michael D. Eisner College of Education.

Northridge Review Submissions

The English Department's literary magazine, the Northridge Review, is accepting original works of fiction, poetry, drama and art for consideration for its Spring 2003 publication. Submissions should include a cover letter with name, address, phone, e-mail and the titles for each piece—the author/artist name must not be on the work itself. There is a limit of five poems and three fiction pieces per author. Submission forms are available at the Northridge Review office in Sierra Tower, room 706. Works may be submitted in person at the office or by mailing them to the Northridge Review, mail drop 8248. The deadline for submissions is March 7.

Suicide & Depression Prevention Talks

Para-professional and peer educators are available to give presentations on the prevention of suicide and depression to classes, clubs and organizations. The presentations are 30-50 minutes, but can be modified according to the needs of faculty. To schedule a presentation, contact Marshall Bloom or Tamara Klumpe, x2366, marshall.bloom@csun.edu or tamara.klumpe@csun.edu.

Classes

Faculty Computer Workshops

The offices of Undergraduate Studies and Online Instruction are sponsoring faculty computer workshops to facilitate online teaching and learning. All workshops will take place in Sierra Hall, fourth floor, room 422. Any of the workshops may be taken individually and assume no prior knowledge. Before taking a workshop, you must sign up for a WebCT, Blackboard or Flashlight account on that particular topic at www.csun.edu/~webteach/account.html. For reservations, call x6558. The following courses are upcoming:

- WebCT I-WebCT Content and Files: 23 p.m. Mon., March 3.
- Password Protect Web Pages: 23 p.m. Wed., March 5.

ITR Computer Workshops

ITR is offering the following workshops in the Oviatt Library, garden level, room 30, Windows 2000 Lab (except as noted):

- Dreamweaver 4 Formatting Features: 1:304:30 p.m. Tue., Feb. 25, Oviatt Library, room 33.
- Excel 2002 for Beginners: 91:30 a.m. Tue., Feb. 25.
- Word 2002 for Beginners: 91:30 a.m. Thu., Feb. 27.
- Photoshop for Beginners: 24:30 p.m. Thu., Feb. 27, Oviatt Library, room 32.

To enroll in classes, call x2204 or e-mail training@csun.edu.

Professional Development

The Office of Human Resource Services is offering a series of professional development workshops. The programs are open to faculty, staff, student assistant, Associated Students, Student Union and Foundation employees—but not to employees of the University Corporation. The workshops will be held in the Oviatt Library, garden level, HR training room 16. Registration is on a first-come, first-served basis. Registration forms are available at the Human Resources office. Completed forms should be returned to the Office of Human Resource Services, mail drop 8229 or faxed to x5956. fmix2101.

- Exceptional Customer Service Skills: 8:30 a.m.-noon Tue., Feb. 25.
• Social Security Benefits Overview: 1011:30 a.m. Tue., March 4.
• CalPERS Pension Overview: 1:303:30 p.m. Mon., March 10.
• CalPERS Pension Overview: 911 a.m. Wed., March 12.

Youth Speaking Course

A public speaking course for sixth through twelfth graders will be offered by the Communication Studies Department this semester. The six-week course will be held from 911:30 a.m. on Saturdays beginning March 1 in Manzanita Hall, room 122. Enrollment is on a first-come, first-served basis and class size is limited. There is a $20 materials fee for the class. For application and enrollment info, call Rebecca Litke at x2047 or e-mail rebecca.litke@csun.edu.

Online Research Classes

The Oviatt Library offers faculty, staff and students walk-in instruction in the use of the bibliographic database and its online catalog. The sessions are adaptable to students of varied backgrounds and aimed at the independent researcher who needs more detailed instruction than can be provided by reference desk librarians. Classes will be held in the Oviatt Library, room 102-D, on the main floor from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Mon. through Thu., March 1013.

Deadlines

Faculty Senate Nominations

Nominations are being accepted for those wanting to seek the Faculty Senate positions of vice president, secretary/treasurer, academic senate and six senator-at-large positions. Petitions signed by 15 faculty members are due 5 p.m. Fri., March 7 in the Faculty Senate office in the Faculty Office Building, room 106, mail drop 8221. fmix3263.

Faculty Research Competition

The Office of Research and Sponsored Projects will offer faculty grants of up to $5,000 through its 200304 competition for the Research, Scholarship and Creative Activity Awards. Faculty may apply for three units of released time and/or funds to pursue their scholarly and creative interests. Applications are available through college and department offices, or through Research and Sponsored Projects in University Hall 265. The application also is available online at www.csun.edu/research/1Research/ Competition.htm. Submissions must be made by 5 p.m. Fri., March 7. fmix2901.

Human Subjects Research Approval

All faculty and students performing research including the use of human subjects must complete a Human Subjects Protocol Approval form. An original form and nine copies should be submitted to the Research Office for review by the Standing Advisory Committee for the Protection of Human Subjects. The next deadline for submissions is Tue., Feb. 25. The next committee meeting is Tue., March 11 committee meeting. Protocol submission forms are available at the Office of Research and Sponsored Projects, University Hall 265 or downloaded from www.csun.edu/research. fmix2901.
from CSU Chancellor Charles B. Reed
CALENDAR

The Associated Students Ticket Office is in the University Student Union sells tickets to many events on campus, excepted for some held by outside groups. The ticket office is open from 9:30 a.m.-5p.m. Mon.-Fri.. For prices not given, call (818) 677-3093, or x2488.

Art

Admission is free unless otherwise specified.

The Museum of Disappearance: Max Almy and Teri Yarbrow

The Museum of Disappearance exhibition features a future that has witnessed the disappearance of many species including our own. Two other works, "Utopia" and "Dream House," offer ironic commentary on urban society and the illusory American dream. Opening reception:
Through Sat., March 8.
Main Art Gallery

Masks: The Spirit of Michoacan

Mask exhibit at the Anaheim Museum, 241 S. Anaheim Blvd., features the art of Juan Horta Castillo. The artist's innovative work fuses ancient Michoacan and contemporary styles with international influences. CSUN journalism chair Kent Kirkton is curator of the exhibit. For more information and admission prices, call (714) 778-3301. Through Sun., April 13, 2003.

Spiritual Expressions: Rassouli-Jenik-Mozafarian

Surrealist works by three American-Iranian artists from Southern California that share their rich symbolism of Persian mystic poetry. Extended through May 2003.
Performing Arts Center Gallery

L.A. Stories: The Power of One

The photography of CSUN students and faculty, featuring dramatic black and white portraits of people who have made tough choices that have impacted their communities, is featured in this exhibit.
Athletics (home games)

Men's Baseball
3/11 LMU 2 p.m.

Men's Basketball
2/27 UC Riverside 7:05 p.m.
3/1 CSU Fullerton 7:05 p.m.

Women's Basketball
3/8 Idaho 7 p.m.

Women's Softball
3/9 Notre Dame (DH) Noon

Women's Tennis
3/8 Hawaii 11 a.m.
3/11 Southern Mississippi 2 p.m.
3/13 Yale 2 p.m.

Men's Volleyball
3/5 USC 7 p.m.
3/7 Pepperdine 7 p.m.

Women's Water Polo
3/1 Occidental College 10 a.m.
3/1 Cal State Bakersfield 4 p.m.
3/8 Chapman University 11 a.m.
3/13 Wagner College 4 p.m.

Film

Cinematheque's 'Film Noir'

CSUN's Department of Cinema and Television Arts presents its Cinematheque spring series "Film Noir" featuring cinema and television classics. The screenings are free and take place every Wednesday and Thursday in the Alan and Elaine Armer Theater, on the first floor of Manzanita Hall at the southwest corner of campus. For more info, call (818) 677-3192 or see www.csuncinematheque.com.

Noir Cop

Wed., Feb. 26, 7:11 p.m.

Femme Fatale

Featuring "Deception," "Leave Her to Heaven" and Alfred Hitchcock Presents "A Jury of Her Peers."
Thu., Feb. 27, 7:11 p.m.

Robert Siodmak

Featuring "Cry of the City," "Criss Cross" and Alfred Hitchcock Presents "Momentum."
Wed., March 5, 7:11 p.m.

Preminger and Welles

Featuring "Fallen Angel," "The Lady from Shanghai" and "Touch of Evil."
Thu., March 6, 5:11 p.m.

Period Noir

Wed., March 12, 7:11 p.m.

Music

Admission to all music events (unless otherwise specified): $10 general, $7 faculty, staff and seniors, $5 students.

CSUN Symphony

John Roscigno conducts.
Fri., Feb. 28, 8 p.m.
Performing Arts Center

CSUN Youth Orchestras Philharmonic

John Roscigno conducts.
Sun., March 2, 3 p.m.
Performing Arts Center
Adults $15, students and children $10

Faculty Artist Recital

Saxophonist Douglas Masek performs.
Mon., March 3, 8 p.m.
Music Recital Hall
Jazz "A" Band

Matt Harris directs.
Fri., March 7, 8 p.m.
Performing Arts Center

CSUN Wind Ensemble

Glenn Price conducts, featuring tuba soloist Douglas Tornquist.
Sat., March 8, 8 p.m.
Performing Arts Center

CSUN Youth Orchestras

Kimberly Kilgore conducts the Camerata Strings. Edward Kawakami conducts the Symphony Orchestra.
Sun., March 9, 3 p.m.
Performing Arts Center
Adults $15, students and children $10

Faculty Artist Recital

Pianist Jeannie Jacobson, violinist James Stark and cellist Margaret Moores perform. Sun., March 9, 8 p.m.
Music Recital Hall

Mendelssohn String Quartet

A part of the Music Guild Series, the Mendelssohn String Quartet will perform their stylish renditions of the classics and strong commitment to contemporary music.
Mon., March 10, 8 p.m.
Performing Arts Center
$26 front orchestra; $23 rear orchestra

Theater/Performance

Director Vincent Dowling directs Thornton Wilder's American classic.
Wed., Feb. 26, 7 p.m.
Thu., Feb. 27, 8 p.m.
Fri., Feb. 28, 8 p.m.
Sat., Mar. 1, 8 p.m.
Sun., Mar. 2, 3 p.m.
Campus Theater
$10 general; $7 faculty, staff, students and seniors
Planetarium Sky Tours

The Donald E. Bianchi Planetarium at CSUN hosts Sky Tour star talks exploring the splendors of the night sky. Recommended for ages 8 and above. Tickets can be ordered in advance by calling (818) 677-2488 or be purchased at the door before show time.

7 p.m. Saturdays, Mar. 1 & 15
Donald E. Bianchi Planetarium on the west side of Science 3 Building. Recommended parking is Lot G4 along Zelzah Ave.
$5 adults and $3 children