A SELECTED CALIFORNIA BIBLIOGRAPHY:

Exploration and Settlement—
The Spanish and Mexican Period

Robert W. Durrenberger
San Fernando Valley State College

The items in this bibliography have been selected from the abundant literature on Hispanic America to assist those who are interested in the geography of settlement. Wherever possible, the English translations of publications in a foreign language have been cited. In a few cases both the original and the translation are included. The student interested in the Spanish and Mexican period in California should refer to the histories of Bancroft, Caughey and Rolle for additional references.
