Showing What We Share

Inspired by the many maps, diagrams, and drawings in Mark Haddon’s book The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-time, students created visual representations of similarities and differences between themselves and one or two classmates.